Please do not use acronyms – please spell out in full.

Please include a brief explanation of whatever of these applies to you:

- Financial interest of any kind in your research.
- Financial interest by someone related to you in your research.
- Work outside your University work such as consulting or volunteer or advisory work that is directly or clearly related to your work at UBC.
- Office space you use other than at UBC if students, graduate students or post doctoral fellows are expected to work there as part of their studies.
- Hiring students, graduate students or post doctoral fellows to work for you either at the University or for outside activities related to your work at UBC.
- A personal relationship with someone in your department who evaluates or supervises students, graduate students or post doctoral fellows that you also evaluate or supervise. This might include a spouse who works in your department or another faculty member you share outside professional activities with such as joint consulting or joint ownership in a business.
